COMMITTEE OF WHOLE WORK IN HOUSE YESTERDAY

House Engaged in Talking Over Homesteads and Exemptions and the Limit of Value on Such

The house of representatives is now engaged in the throes of a controversy relating to the amount of an exemption from execution that should be allowed a homesteader. The matter came up yesterday afternoon in the committee of the whole with Mail-dock in the chair in the discussion of H. R. 80 a code bill relating to homesteads and exemptions. Under the present law, a homestead valued at $2500 is exempt from execution for debt, but the new code bill raises it to $4000.

Saxon wanted to make the high cost of living affect the proposition and so raise the exemption to $5000, but there was strenuous objection to this. The squabble was still on when the committee arose with leave to sit again and they will take the matter up again today.

Another thing that caused some little talk was the Harrison senate bill 56 relative to a lawful fence. Whipple wanted to make it five wires, others would have it but four. The four wire men finally prevailed and the bill was recommended for passage without division.

House bill 90, by the committee on code revision relating to the organization, operation and maintenance of the livestock sanitary board was approved without division. H. R. 77 prescribing the legal rate of interest and the maximum rate providing for penalties and forfeitures was finally agreed to. The legal rate is fixed at 6 per cent and the maximum rate at 12 per cent. An attempt was made to make 10 per cent the maximum but it failed.

At this point Saxon sprung a little feature for the afternoon in complaining about the members sitting around with their feet on their desks when they ought to be legislating. Immediately the papers were shoved in the pigeon holes and the feet were put on the floor and everybody was at attention. It lasted until the 10 per cent matter was finished.

MRS. MYRA HURSH WILL RETURN TO FRESNO

Mrs. Myra Hursh and R. J. Jackson, who were arrested by the county authorities on a charge of kidnapping preferred by the California state officials, have decided not to fight extradition and will accompany the Fresno officer on his return to the coast. The extradition papers were given to Governor Hunt yesterday but before he could make a decision the prisoners decided to go back and fight the case in the California courts.

G. R. Jones, who came to the assistance of Mrs. Hursh, stated yesterday that the order giving the child into the custody of the father was given while Mrs. Hursh was away, and that the statements made by the father to the court during the application for the order would in all probability result in some one being arrested for perjury.

The child, Othel, for the possession of whom there has been such a legal battle, has been staying at the home of Sheriff Jeff Adams and the other adopted daughter, Myrtle, has been staying at the Children's Home on Washington street.

"Spring" in Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 21.—Spring arrived today in the Central West on the wings of the most destructive storm of the year snow and sleet and gales of wind brought the telephone and telegraph poles to the ground, wrecked buildings and sunk vessels on the lakes. The toll of death was large, and storm conditions general though the southern states.

More poles are down than in any previous storm of recent years and several days will probably elapse before wire conditions approximate the normal. Gangs of furland cablemen are out on all the roads doing all possible to get enough wires in commission to carry the pressing commercial and news dispatches. No close approximation of the financial damage to telegraph companies can be made. Thousands of poles are down and miles of line are in result.

ELIZABETHANS TREAD BOARDS

Ben Greet Players Present "Comedy of Errors" in Manner of Shakespeare's Own Day and Find Appreciative Audience

The Ben Greet players came to their winter tour straight from gambling in the gardens of the great. During the summer months their plays are staged against a background of real rocks and trees, but they rebel against the kind of trees that grow on the back drop and up in the flies, and the scenery for their indoor productions is supplied by the imagination of the audience.

"The Comedy of Errors" as presented in the high school auditorium last night was no exception to this rule of simplicity. According to Elizabethan ideals the setting, which remained unchanged throughout the performance, was severely plain, but the costumes were comparatively elaborate.

Before the uncompromising background moved as nimble a pair of jesters as ever graced a stage. The two Dromios surprised the audience into laughter by their grotesque gambols—they must have almost surprised each other. Percival Vivian and P. Creighton-Hale wore the twin jesters and the work of Mr. Creighton-Hale was the best by ever so little.

If a trifle less hectic than his brother of Ephesus, Antipholus of Syracuse was more likable and therefore better, since he was meant to be liked. George Seybolt was the Ephesian and William Keighley played the counterpart. Leonard Shepherd as Aegeon acted well a heavy role that contrasted sharply with the laughable action of the major part of the play.

It was a man's play. An agreeable voice is requisite for the covering of a multitude of sins and the ladies of the company were not uniformly well supplied with this requisite. But Anne Thompson in the role of Lucina was quite charming and a guess that she came from south Mason and Dixon's line is hardly hazardous.

The pleasing effect of the comedy was due to the creditable work of the players themselves, and the efforts of Ben Greet to put the work of the actor ahead of that of the scene painter cannot but have a good effect upon the American stage.

BASEBALL TODAY—The High School Coyotes and the Saints of Mesa high will meet at Eastlake at 2:30 this afternoon.

FRIEDMANN HAS TO STOP

by Dr. Friedmann the board of officers made experiments to ascertain whether the culture is as Friedmann claims harmless on warm-blooded animals. Considerable time will be necessary to carry out the investigations but the work will be carried out as rapidly as possible.

"In the meantime the public is informed of the inadvisability of a great majority of cases of traveling long distances in the hope of receiving the treatment as those selected for demonstration purposes constitute only a small proportion of the applicants.

"Certain statements purporting to be expressions of the opinion of board officers of the public health service bearing on the investigation have appeared in the newspapers. Those officers have expressed no opinion and will not be in a position to do so until the work has advanced sufficiently far to warrant some conclusion with regard to Friedmann's treatment."

It is further stated by the government officials that it will be a month and probably more before conclusions will be reached regarding the efficacy of the treatment upon the patients who are being watched by the board of officers authorized to make an investigation. Dr. John F. Anderson and Dr. A. M. Stimson, who compose the board are keeping a daily clinical record of the cases treated by Dr. Friedmann in the New York hospitals. These records will furnish the basis of final reports when sufficient information has accumulated to warrant them. Though the developments from day to day such as the lowering of the temperature, disappearance of night sweats, cessation of coughing and the like might mean something of importance in one case, in others it would not. For this reason the public health officials regard it as dangerous to make any report whatever until ready to report finally. They also point out the necessity to keep a record of many cases, as 2 or 3 cases will not be sufficient upon which to base a just report as to the efficacy of the treatment. Thus far Friedmann's tuberculosis culture has been demonstrated to be a "live bug" according to tests made in the government hygienic laboratory here, subcultures have been grown from the original culture submitted to the public health service by the Berlin doctor several weeks ago. Tests conducted by Dr. Anderson proved the new bacilli will propagate from a prime culture and experiments have been begun with warm blooded laboratory animals. Subcultures also have been proved to be acid proof and they have been propagated in various chemical media, such as beef bullion, gelatin bread and other subjects. Enough bacilli have been developed for carrying out through monkeys and guinea pigs further tests of the anti-tubercular bacilli which Dr. Friedmann asserts to have been derived from sea turtles.
